Building a Responsible Business

Dear Members,

Co-organizer

Building a responsible business is no longer a single definition of making profit, but essentially covers how your business can create a positive contribution to workplace, marketplace, environment, and community as a whole. This includes at both product level (safety standard compliance) and corporate level (Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) project implementation).

In collaboration with SGS Hong Kong Limited, this seminar will provide you inspiring information & guidance from specialist, also a practical CSR case to help demonstrate your accountability in reality to achieve sustainability development.
